Northwestern Chief Scores Pacifists In Speech To Students

More Than 3,000 Persons

"PINK" IS MANHANDLED

"Thirty Eight" Declared to Be
"Spineless, Pusillanimous Pacifists"

By Associated Press
Chicago—Patriotism blazing up with warlike fervor on Northwestern university campus came in defiance of hopes of organized pacifists that they might get a foothold in the institution.

"The attitude of Northwestern university is that we should risk our all in the defense of our nation," Walter Dill Scott, president, told upwards of 3,000 persons including many Northwestern students gathered in Patten
gymnasium.

The "thirty-eight," students of Northwestern who pledged themselves
recently never to fight, heard themselves excoriated, ridiculed and held up to public scorn. One asked permission to speak, but did not get it.

ARRAIGNS DRAFT EVADER
Brigadier General Nathan William MacChesney, president of Northwestern's Alumni association called "the thirty-eight," "spineless, pusillanimous
pacifists," and arraigned Brent Allinson, draft evader, who recently addressed a church meeting just off
the university campus.

"Judge Northwestern by its acts,"
said President Scott. In the Civil war
we gave the union 64 per cent of our students. In the Spanish war, the 100
we sent were all the government would take. As to the World war
there lie beneath the poppies in France 74 of our honored dead.

President Scott wears the distinguished service medal.
The throng sang patriotic hymns,
cheered the stars and stripes and pledged itself to "maintain the rugged
march of civilization towards a goal
of peace."

MISTAKEN FOR "PINK"
Chicago—Patriotic students of Northwestern university nearly mobbed an anti pacifist Monday under the mistaken impression that he was
what is known as a student "pink."

Isadore Spector, Russian, an antipacifist who fought for Russia against Germany and against the Turks, and later fought the Bolsheviks and still bears wounds of battle, afterwards
told Dr. Walter Dill Scott of the university that he was "glad to see the students were ready to fight."

Spector, who is struggling to obtain an education and who speaks English with some difficulty, for two days has been trying to express his view that pacifism might lead to Bolshevism. Monday in the business law class, Spector attempted to make some remarks, but was prevented. The students believed he was trying to air pacifist views and
after class, a group surrounded him,
thrust his coat and hat upon him and
told him to get off the campus.

He went to President Scott's office
and explained his views and the mistake of the students who had told him
to "shut up" and leave the campus
was made known.

The Russian nativity and the fact that he is not an American citizen,
along with his difficulty expressing himself in English, are believed to have misled his fellow students into believing him a pacifist.

WRIT CAN'T CUT DELEGATE LIST

By Associated Press
Madison—Court proceedings to en-
join the secretary of state from issuing certificates of election to seven delegates at large to the Republican national convention will be of no account, Attorney General Herman L. Ekern said Monday in answer to reports that the locality of the LaFollette Progressive Republican list of candidates
had been questioned.

Mr. Ekern stated that the national convention is the sole judge of its membership.

Poincare Reaffirms Old Policy On Ruhr Question

By Associated Press
Paris—In presenting his new ministry to the chamber of deputies Monday, Premier Poincare reaffirmed all the policies of his late government
and expressed "firm hope" for rapid liquidation of Germany's reparations
after the expert committee have handled in their report.

The chamber gave M. Poincare a fairly cool reception when he mounted the tribune. A large number of deputies broke into laughter when the premier said none of the men
chosen for the new ministry had abandoned any of his opinions.

The Republican policies practiced
in the formation of the new cabinet,
M. Poincare declared, had as their object pursuance of the international policies of the former government and pursuance also of the economic and financial policies which had been approved by a majority of the chamber after the German occupation, the premier said.

"France cannot withdraw her troops
from the Ruhr except in proportion to payments. She will not exchange positive pledges for uncertain promises but she has firm hope that after the experts have handled in their report, settlement and rapid liquidation
of the reparations will become possible."

"As soon as the work of experts
has terminated, France will be ready to study it and seek with our friends
to find the elements of a final solution."

ENGLISH WAGE WAR AFFECTS MILLIONS

London—The growing discontent
among the workers is the theme of much comment in the London press Monday. In section after section of industry demands for higher wages
have reached a point of crisis and it is feared that, including the London transport workers who are balloting Monday on the settlement terms
arranged last week fully two million
workers are involved in movements
for increased pay.

Conservative and Liberal newspapers represent the government as in a critical condition.

BADGER PARTY LEADERS FINISH DELEGATE FIGHT

Milwaukee—Managers and party workers in Wisconsin Monday were putting the finishing touches to the fight for convention delegates to the campaign of our candidates for the presidency. The delegates chosen in the election Tuesday are in conference with the candidates of Senator
R. M. LaFollette of Wisconsin and President Calvin Coolidge on the Republican side, and W. G. McAdoo, California, and Governor Alfred
Smith of New York, in the Democratic column.

WIREMEN WORK TO REPAIR HARM DONE BY STORM

Four Thousand Telephone Poles
Down in Wisconsin; Street-
cars Halted

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Telephone and telegraph companies Monday were slowly
learning the extent of the damage caused by the sleet storm of Friday night and Saturday morning and estimated that approximately 4,000 telephone and telegraph poles are down
over the state.

Nearly 1,000 men are working to repair the damage which is estimated at about 75,000 breaks in the various lines. This work, it was said by A.
E. Johnson of the American T. & T.
Co. will take nearly a week to complete.

Roads in the northern part of the state are reported blocked and several days will be required before they can be reopened.

REPAIRS REQUIRE WEEKS

St. Paul, Minn.—Work of clearing highways and restoring interrupted wire communication as a result of Friday's and Saturday's blizzard in the northwest was well under way
Monday.

Telephone and telegraph companies
sent out large crews to repair lines
torn down when several thousand poles were snapped off by sleet and gale.

In Wisconsin it was estimated that 4,000 poles were down and hundreds were down in southern Minnesota.
Only a few telegraph wires between here and Chicago were in working order. Sioux Falls and several other South Dakota towns were cut off from the Twin Cities. It will be several weeks before conditions are again
normal.

Railroads out of here reported most of their trains on time. Huge drifts and ice on the tracks Monday continued to tie up many of the streetcar lines in St. Paul and Minneapolis.
Because of snow in the blocked
streets and uncertain streetcar traffic,
public schools here were ordered closed for Monday. Sessions probably will be resumed Tuesday.

DAWES COMMITTEE AGREES ON DRAFT

Text Will Be Ready for Publication Friday; Await Attitude
of France

By Associated Press
Paris—The drafting committee of the reparations experts who have been studying Germany's post on under the chairmanship of Brigadier General Dawes has practically agreed on the main points of the reports which are to be made to the reparations committee.

The various members presented their observations on the report at a plenary session Monday. It is hinted that the text will be ready for publication by Friday although there is some inclination not to hurry the event until it is seen how the new Poincare government is received.

No Registration Required For City Election Tomorrow

Voters whose names do not appear on the registration rolls of the precinct in which they now live, may still have an opportunity to cast their ballots in tomorrow's municipal election. If their vote is challenged by any member of the election board at the time they appear at the polls, they would be required to give an oath to verify their qualifications.

Each voter upon entering the voting
station will be given four ballots, one containing a list of the candidates for city offices, one containing a list of the office of state representative, one containing a list of the office of state senator, and one for voting on the constitutional amendment that proposes to increase legislators' salaries
from $500 a term to $750 a term.

Since the presidential preference
vote is a primary election or nomination, no elector will be permitted to distribute his ballot to other voters.
He must vote for delegates of one party
only, otherwise the ballot will be illegal.

The election Tuesday will determine
the successful candidates for mayor,
attorney, treasurer, assessor, one alderman from each ward and county
superior from each ward.
Candidates are looking for a 100 per cent vote. The largest vote cast

Kenyon Seems Most Probable Choice To Succeed Daugherty

Dismissal of Attorney General
May Weaken Coolidge in Race for White House or Attract Independent Votes.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub Co.

Washington, D. C.—War is on between former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and President Coolidge. What it will bring in the way of political effects, what damage
it will do inside the Republican party,
what influence it will have on the effort of congress to say who shall and who shall not be a member of the executive's cabinet, it may be too early to foretell with exactness but the retirement of the attorney general has not been attended with much satisfaction for anybody.

The Democratic national committee is gratified that Mr. Daugherty is out of the cabinet "upon any pretext whatever," but accuses the president of belated action. Mr. Daugherty himself thanks the president for
the statement that "he does not question my fairness or integrity," but brands the president's action as unwise and untimely.

Mr. Daugherty's influence within the Republican party is not inconsiderable. He may lead a revolt against
Mr. Coolidge on the serious charges
—not uncommon in politics—that the man from Massachusetts doesn't stick by the regulars in his party. Such a movement might, on the one hand,

strange certain elements, but, it might, on the other hand win to Mr.
Coolidge's side independent voters who want him to break the fetters of party.

There have been rumors for some time that opposition to the nomination of Mr. Coolidge might be led by former Governor Frank O. Low-den of Illinois. Some of Mr. Daugh-erty's friends insist the former attorney general will have a good deal
to say about the way the Ohio delegation votes in the next national convention. "These may be empty threats voiced at the moment, because feeling runs high. But Harry Daugherty is a factor to be reckoned with in party politics. And he will manage to keep the limelight for many weeks to come as he makes his defense against what he believes to be unwarranted
attack by the Senate investigating committee. His friends on Capitol hill will endeavor for the party's sake to help his cause. If he succeeds in making a good impression and explaining the many innuendoes which have been broadcast from the senate investigating committee he will strengthen the opinion of those in the Republican party who feel today that Secretary Denby also should not be allowed to retire without a full hearing and that Democratic sniping
should not sweep Republican leaders
off their feet.

HAS CONFIDENCE OF WEST

Mr. Kenyon was the head of the Farm bloc when in the senate. The west has confidence in him—and it is in the west that Mr. Coolidge needs strength. Further Judge Kenyon was assistant attorney general in the Taft administration and has a thorough familiarity with the affairs of the department. He was offered the secretaryship of the navy but declined because he didn't think he was fit for the portfolio. The fact that Mr. Coolidge wanted him in the cabinet is significant. Since that time
Judge Wilbur of California, who, it was thought, would be attorney general, has accepted the navy portfolio
which on his the president to offer
the job of attorney general to Judge Kenyon. He seems the most likely choice at the moment.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP IN IRISH CONFLICT

Belfast, Ireland—A number of bridges on the main road between Loughfort and Athlone in central Ireland, were blown up Sunday night
and the roads were blocked with fellow trees. The Republicans disclaimed responsibility for the destruction.
Residents of the country districts
around Mullingar, County Westmeath,
were awakened at midnight by a series of loud explosions. All the roads in the district were either blocked or blown up.
An attempt to blow up a bridge on the Dublin road failed.
Great excitement prevails in the affected area.

Walsh Blames Denby Aide For Retaining Post

Thirteen Die When Floods Sweep Valley

By Associated Press

Pittsburg, Pa.—Flood waters of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers,
swollen by rains and melted snow
from the mountain regions of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia were sweeping westward through the Ohio valley Monday. A stage of 41 feet was expected by noon at Wheeling,
which would submerge the district
fronting the river bank.

Streets in most of the Pittsburg district bordering the river were uninhabited Sunday some to a depth of six or seven feet, when both rivers left their channels. A stage of 29.2 feet, 7 feet above flood was recorded, the highest in 11 years. Much damage was done to industrial plants and many operations will be suspended until repairs are made. The waters were receding Monday.
Railroad transportation was greatly affected but service was being slowly restored.

Eight deaths in western Pennsylvania was attributed to the flood.
Five others occurred at Kittanning, Md., when an entire family was swept down the Potomac river.

DAUGHERTY STILL BACKS PRESIDENT

Retired Attorney General
Leaves for Washington to
"Look After Things"

By Associated Press

Atlantic City, N. J.—Harry M.
Daugherty who has been based on a vacation since he resigned as attorney general, expects to leave Monday for Washington, where he says he has
"quite a few things to look after."

In a statement Sunday night he asserted he was still "the dependable friend and supporter" of President Coolidge and that he had not thought of withdrawing as candidate for delegate at large from Ohio to the Republican national convention. He added that he supposed it was too late to withdraw.

He said he was feeling fine and that he would take care of himself
"until reason is fully restored and time and truth fully vindicate me."

COOLIDGE FUND TOO HIGH, CHARGE

Chicago—Charges "that there was much more evidence of lavishness" in the Coolidge primary campaign in South Dakota than was noted in the Wood and Lowden campaigns in that state in 1920, when the criticism
of the expense resulted in a senate inquiry into campaign funds, were made Monday in a telegram from United States Senator Peter Norbeck,
a leader in the Johnson campaign.
The telegram also charged employment of federal workers in the "elaborate headquarters" of the Coolidge managers.

Sen. Norbeck, pledged to the Johnson candidacy, was elected as a delegate at large to the national convention in the primary last week. He was active in the campaign for several weeks before the balloting.

Senator Johnson left Sunday night
for a four day tour in Michigan
to highlight the Coolidge senator will carry his campaign back into Illinois
before the primary.

By Associated Press

Milwaukee—Thomas Riley, 78, Minneapolis collapsed at the head of his brother, Matthew Riley, 74, here Monday and died shortly afterward from arrest Sunday on a charge of embezzlement and was held in the federal grand jury which met at the city hall. Riley was a 100-year-old man, aged 74, and his death was attributed to a heart attack. Riley
was a native of Ireland and had lived in Minneapolis for many years.

MELLON ATTACK GOES ON

Committee Calls for Definite Figures in Transactions of Mellon Firms

Washington, D. C.—A resolution demanding the resignation of Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy because of his connection with the oil leasing program, was passed Monday by Senator Dill of Washington, a Democratic member of the oil committee.

Senator Dill said he expected to express his opinion at the earliest opportunity.
Mr. Roosevelt was severely criticized before the oil committee by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, and several Democratic senators, have declared
on the senate floor that "the assistant secretary's close relationship with former Secretary Denby should have impelled him to follow his chief into resignation."

OFFENSIVE GATHERS FORCE

Washington, D. C.—The new offensive in the senate against president Coolidge's cabinet—directed this time against Secretary Mellon—gathered momentum Monday while the committee investigating the internal revenue bureau resumed its examination of the tax records of "Mellon companies."

The committee Thursday called for definite figures on taxes, depletion
and other allowances granted the Gulf
oil corporation one of the Mellon companies in its tax cases for 1917, 1918 and 1919 and this information
was promised for Monday by bureau
officials. The cases brought the corporation credits totalling $8,775,000
for "net excessive payments." The bureau's records of the matter were virtually impounded by the committee in charge of Nelson T. Hartson, solicitor of the bureau and S. M. Greenwood, an official under oath, as custodians.

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, meanwhile was prepared to press for action on the resolution he introduced Friday calling for an investigation by a special committee of Mr. Mellon's legal qualifications to act as secretary of treasury.
Senator Wadsworth, Republican of New York, brooked consideration of the proposal Friday and it went over until Monday under the rules. No disposition was shown by Republican leaders, however, to oppose adoption of the resolution.

The resolution reviews testimony
before the committee investigating the revenue bureau with reference to companies in which Secretary Mellon
is interested and cites statutes prohibiting fiscal agents of the government from maintaining commercial connection.

PREUS BARS PLEA FOR EXTRADITION

St. Paul, Minn.—Governor Preus
today denied the application for extradition of T. S. Kidwell, to Chip-ewa Falls where he was wanted on a charge of bank robbery in connection with burglary of the Holcombe State bank, Holcombe, Nov. 15, last.

Kidwell was held in Minneapolis
for Wisconsin authorities and had the first hearing before Governor Preus
last week. At that time the Governor postponed action until Monday
with a view to obtaining more specific information on the charge, but there was not sufficient testimony
introduced upon which to warrant extradition, he said.

BANK OFFICIALS HEARD ON EMBEZZLING CHARGE

Crookston, Minn.—C. E. Gilder-steele and H. O. Anderson, assistant cashier and bookkeeper respectively
of the Mechanics National bank here,
which was closed March 15, were Monday given a preliminary hearing
before United States Commissioner Alexander Fosmark, following their
arrest Sunday on a charge of embezzlement and were held in the federal grand jury which met at the
city hall. Riley was a 100-year-old man, aged 74, and his death was
attributed to a heart attack. Riley

CITY OLDER BOYS FORM PERMANENT YOUTHS' COUNCIL

Cigaretts, Dancing, Bootlegging
Discussed at City-wide Conference

Formation of a city-wide boys' work council composed of representatives of 25 Y. M. C. A. clubs, the churches and Sunday schools, the vocational and high schools and boys lodge group, was the most direct result of the first older boys conference of Appleton. Officers elected to head the 1925 conference in conjunction with the city boys council were Lawrence Bohon, president; Harry Parton, first vice president; Carl Enkler, second vice president; Everett Roudsush, secretary.

The purpose of this council is to correlate and combine the united force of forward-looking boys opinion of the city into an organization which will take definite steps toward the betterment of boy life in the community.

OPPOSE CIGARETS

This council plan originated at an open forum discussion Sunday afternoon at the closing session of the conference. Although the program called for but one open forum discussion to be held Sunday morning the discussion proved interesting and was continued in the afternoon session. Recommendations that the council sponsor an active anti-cigarette campaign in the community, promote the organization in shops and factories of the boys employed therein and that it seek to arouse greater interest and cooperation in a similar conference to be held next year were passed by the conference.

The banquet Saturday evening was attended by 64 older boys. Harold Zuehlke acted as toastmaster. A clever vaudeville stunt was staged by two of the delegates entitled "The Hicks from Hickville." "Dad" and "Wones" state boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. followed with a reading and the address of Frank Ritchie of New York, a national committee man of the Y. M. C. A. concluded the evening's program.

The Sunday morning session was called to order at 9:45 by Lawrence Bohon. After a devotional service led by R. J. Harwood the meeting was turned over to Mr. Ritchie who led the open forum discussion. Cigarette smoking, bootlegging, stunting, improper supervision, and kindred evils were discussed on the floor of the conference.

The open forum was resumed at the afternoon session at which Alder Behnke presided. The Rev. Paul O. Keicher led the devotional service and group singing was led by Harold Dittmore. After an hour's discussion the program was concluded by an inspirational address by Frank Ritchie on "Prejudices."

STREATOR BRICK IN WEST SIDE SCHOOL

Special Committee Investigates
Brick Used in Evanston
School

Theodore Berg, city attorney, and Alderman John F. Lappen and Herman R. Beske, have returned from a trip to Evanston. They constituted a special committee of the board of public works to inspect the brick being used in the construction of a high school in that city.

The committee was to report its findings at a meeting of the board of public works Monday afternoon. The selection of brick for the east end junior high school will be discussed. Brick for the west end junior high school has already been chosen. It will be furnished by the Streator Brick company of Streator, Ill. It is an artistic facing brick and the bricklaying will be arranged with a mixture of several different shades of brown.

By the saving effected in the choice of this brick, the board was able to adopt the type of roofing in accordance with the original specifications. The roofing will be of green tile instead of red. The combination of red brick facing brick and green tile roofing will make the building a beautiful one, it was said.

Kansas City Doctor Invents New Truss

New Discovery Heals Rupture
Without An Operation.

Kansas City, Mo., (Special)—A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of the well known Hemia Specialist, Dr. Andrews, 7464 Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gouging pads no elastic belt, no leg straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery and he will send it on free trial to any reader of The Post-Crescent who writes him. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctors free offer. Write him today.

ON THE SCREEN

AT THE ELITE

"Name the Man!" Sir Hall Caine's latest drama to be transferred to the screen, now being presented at the Elite theatre, takes rank with the best pictures of the year.

The story, adapted from "The Mas- ter of Man," is replete with dramatic action. It carries one through the hearts of its people. It deals with both the lowly and the great—and the intermingling of the two. And though the observer is totally uncon- scious of the photography, it is sur- passingly beautiful.

Although this is the first American picture to be made by Victor Seastrom, the Swedish director, he has delivered a master stroke. He deals with real- ities—with real people whom everyone has met and known. His direction is sympathetic at all times. He has made the action spontaneous, and each character, when flashed upon the screen, carries the story forward with swift movement. Like the photo- graphy, one is totally unconscious of the director, and yet when this photodrama is analyzed, he is present at all times.

Mae Busch triumphs again in this, her second Hall Caine story—she hav- ing played Glory Quayle in "The Christian." Miss Busch's perform- ance has the very desirable element of "abandon," and yet at no time does she even hint at overacting. Her pathos is superb—especially her tears in the rain.

Conrad Nagel as the Deemster's son emerges with many laurels also. His action is repressed, and yet strong.

Patsy Ruth Miller has a very sym- pathetic role and handles it in a man- ner to add new praise to her name. Evelyn Seible, De Witt Jennings and Freighton Hale are among the sup- port cast who make live the characters as Hall Caine pictured them on the Isle of Man. Truly, Victor Seastrom has given the public one of the great pictures of the year and lived up to his reputation of being one of the ablest directors in the industry.

PHANTOM JUSTICE

At last we have something new under the sun! And something new in the way of climaxes. And youth—bright, clean-minded, exploring youth,—is responsible in "Phantom Justice," a six-part photoplay shown in this city for the first time tonight at the Majestic Theater.

"Phantom Justice" is real entertain- ment, but there is a moral behind that quality, a moral subtly "but across without detracting from the story it- self." In fact, the moral is what strengthens the theme of "Phantom Justice," instead of hindering the ac- tion, as is so often the case with "moralizing" films.

The film concerns a young crim- inal lawyer with a complex centering around wealth, who so loses his sense of duty to his fellow man, so forgets that he is a swift court officer that he allows himself to become the will- ing tool of a gang of metropolitan gangsters and all-round crooks. He not only keeps them out of durance ville, but aids them in their criminal craft by methods decidedly unethical and oftentimes downright criminal. The young lawyer finally falls victim to his own cleverness and then comes the climax that literally sweeps you off your feet.

"Free Ali" showing at the New Bi- tou Today and Tuesday is the story of a New York society girl who volun- teers to accompany her wealthy father on an automobile trip from St. Paul to the Coast. Before leaving she pro- nounces a persistent suitor that he will have his "Yes" or "No" on her return. A shiny new "National" speedster is rolled off a flat-car in the St. Paul railroad yards, and the trip towards the sunset begins. Two hours out of St. Paul the action starts—in the lit- tle town of Schoenstrom, which is re- ally Rosemont, Minn., where Milt Daggett presides over the Glacier Trail Garage.

All Milt's ideas of life were turned topsy-turvy upon the arrival of the girl from the East, and ten minutes after she had purchased an inner tube from his garage, he had turned his es- tablishment over to his assistant, and was speeding westward at the wheel.

Have Expert Judge Age Of Old Violins

It has been said that there are so many "Stradivarius Violins in the world that it would have kept the old violin maker busy every minute of the day for two hundred years to make them all.

If one would know whether one's violin is original or an imitation send it to an expert for examination. Several of the larger music publishing companies employ such experts. Any of these will be glad to judge the age and value of a violin.

That is the advice imparted to an Appleton man by Frederic Haskin, di- rector of the Post-Crescent Informa- tion bureau at Washington, D. C., in response to a letter addressed to that bureau.

Some authorities say that it is pos- sible to construct a crystal radio set able to receive from 400 to 3,000 miles. Mr. Haskin replies to another, but sug- gests that the writer inquire further of the company manufacturing the set in question.

Complete instructions relative to be- coming an American citizen is given a woman who has lived in this country three years. Another inquirer is supplied with information regarding the planting of shrubs and hedges.

The total number of letters received by Mr. Haskin from Post-Crescent readers during the week ending March 20 were 71. He also had 55 requests for free booklets, as follows: Word book, 20; United States maps, 10; recipes, 7; rats, 6; gardening, 4; concrete, 2 and one each of floor covering, oranges, raisins, salting, rice and sew- ing.

13 NEW BOOKS ON LIBRARY SHELVES

Thirteen new books that have been added to the library recently include books of every type, fiction, technical books and books of travel. Some of the most interesting are "Children of Loneliness" by Anzia Yezierska and "Travels in Alaska" by John Muir. Here is the list of new volumes:

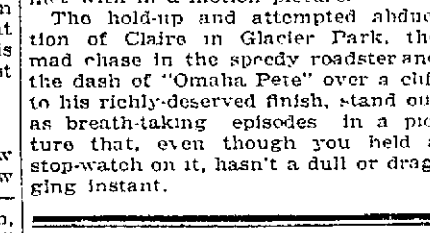

Burt, M. S.—"The Interpreter's House."
Dunn, J. A.—"The Water-Bearer."
Paris, J. T.—"Seeing the Middle West."
Leacock, S. B.—"Over the Foot- lights."
Muir, John—"Travels in Alaska."
Ogden, G. W.—"The Trail Rider."
Paine, R. D.—"Four Bells."
Pendexter, Hugh—"Old Misery."
Rinehart, M. R.—"The Out Trail."
Villard, O. C.—"Some Newspapers and Newspapermen."
White, C. E.—"The Bungalow Book."
Wiley, John—"The Education of Pe- ter."
Yezierska, Anzia—"Children of Lone- liness."

Will Visit Europe
The Rev. Edward H. Smith, for many years pastor of the First Con- gregational church at Oshkosh, and well known in church circles of Ap- pleton as well as throughout the state, is planning to leave on another of the weirdest-looking "bug" that ever hit the Glacier Trail.

How this fortunate arrival rescued Claude and her father from the clutches of a farmer whose sole ac- tivity in life consisted in pulling motor- ists out of mud-holes of his own dig- ging; how every difficulty of the road found him pegging along close behind, resourceful, eager and willing to help how he interferences with the sinister de- signs of "Omaha Pete"—all unite in a succession of anti-climaxes seldom met with in a motion picture.

The hold-up and attempted abduc- tion of Claude and her father, the mad chase in the speedy roadster and the dash of "Omaha Pete" over a cliff to his richly-deserved finish, stand out as breath-taking episodes in a pic- ture that, even though you held a stop-watch on it, hasn't a dull or drag- ging instant.

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized au- thority in that line.

Over fifty years ago this noted phy- sician gave to the world a Prescrip- tion which has never been equaled for the weaknesses of women. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all thru treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Pres- cription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it in both tablets and fluid form.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. Write for free medical advice, adv.

GREEN BAY DENIES ROUTE 15 TALES

Says There Is No Movement on Foot to Reroute Tourists Over Route 57

Green Bay adores highway 15 and would not be guilty of any action which would harm its neighbor communities, declares a letter received by Appleton Chamber of Commerce from W. F. Kerwin, secretary of the asso- ciation of commerce there.

This is Mr. Kerwin's answer to ac- cusations made by Marinette and other cities in the upper peninsula of Michigan that Green Bay was waging a campaign to have traffic routed over highway 57 so tourists would be obliged to use hotel and other facil- ities there. The traffic was to be kept out of the Fox river valley and was to take a northward route where only small towns would be encountered. It was said, thus assuring Green Bay the bulk of the tourist trade.

There has been no such movement in Green Bay and the charge that one exists there is false, says Mr. Kerwin. He tried to arrange a conference with chambers of commerce of the cities making the accusations so as to dis- prove them but could not get them to attend.

He points to Green Bay's work for the improvement of highway 15 north of there as evidence that the city thinks a great deal of this state high- way and would do nothing to decrease its use. Tourists travel to a fixed destination anyway, the communica- tion save, and any campaign Green Bay might wage would be ineffective to say nothing of the unfavorable light in which the city would be put.

tour to Europe. He will leave early in June and will spend about four months in England and Ireland. He will make his headquarters in London and will visit his nephew Arthur Smith, at "Heathley," Birkenhead, near Liverpool. He also is planning a trip to Norway.

He Isn't Such A Bad Looking Young Woman

BYRON RIVERS

Modistes, hatters, looters—all ar- tists whose work is to further em- bellish the charms of lovely femininity—have been employed by the Hares- foot club of the university of Wiscon- sin to make "Bv" Rivers look his best before the footlights in the leading fem- inine role of the musical comedy "Twinkle Twinkle" which Haresfoot will present at the Appleton theatre on the night of April 8.

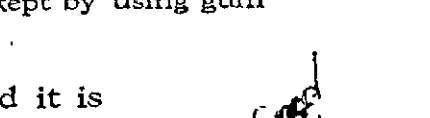

Rivers is in Chicago this week end being measured and fitted for the gorgeous gowns which he will wear in the coming production. The gowns are being made by Lester, Chicago costumer, and their creation will mark a new high spot in the art of costume designing. One of the gowns which Rivers will wear is to be an exact replica of one worn by Marion Sunshine when made thou- sands of women envious by her ap- pearance.

The Haresfoot club has always been noted for the grace and beauty of the feminine impersonators in its shows, but Rivers is considered one of the greatest finds the club has, known. In his role of a flapper princess in a kingdom beyond the stars he combines all of the wit and willow of the modern flapper with a charming graciousness unbelievable in a mere man. In addition to his other capabilities Rivers is a clever dancer and more than an ordinarily good singer.

"Dope" Bureau I. Success

Twelve hundred telephone calls were answered by the information bureau of the Appleton Sport shop regarding results of state tournament games at Madison last week. Myrtle Basing and "Liz" Blackburn were kept extremely busy during the meet and plan to continue the service next year, owing to its great popularity.

CIVIC DUTY TO VOTE

One of the principal faults of our republican form of government is that too many people consider popular election of public officials as a privilege rather than a duty. To many of our people, election day is merely an opportunity to select the persons who will manage their governmental affairs, it is merely a day set apart for exercise of a prerogative guaranteed by the constitution.

If our republican government is to be as satisfactory as we want it to be, we must first of all change our attitude toward voting. We must first of all regard participation in selection of our officers as a sacred duty, binding upon us in conscience, if we are to approach maximum efficiency in government.

Too few of our citizens appreciate the necessity they have of taking part in their government. Too many of us are content to sit back and look at the government as a thing apart, in which they have no direct interest or duty to participate. Few persons say "we" when they talk of their government; it is almost invariably "they." If our government is not satisfactory it is always "they" who are blamed; it is always "they" who make the mistakes.

We, as a people, are great demanders of action from the men we elect to office, but we are reluctant to spend the brief time that is required to get to the polls to vote. We are very prone to criticize those placed in office because they do not always follow our wishes but we are negligent in exercising our duty of formulating public policies by voting on election day. In 1922 about 885,000 voters of Wisconsin failed to go to the polls; tomorrow, with the issues less well defined, there is a danger that the number of stay-at-homes will be even larger.

We cannot hope for a satisfactory government in Appleton, in Outagamie county or anywhere if we continue in this attitude toward government. Tomorrow is election day and every man and woman who aspires to the title of good citizen will go to the polls. It is as much a part of their civic duty as paying taxes and obeying laws. No person can rightfully be called a good citizen who neglects any of these duties, and voting is just as important as the other two.

Persons eligible to vote owe it to themselves, their community and to the candidates for office to go to the polls tomorrow. No matter which way the election goes, everyone will be satisfied if the number of voters participating is large enough to make the winners representative of the wishes of the majority.

THE WHEAT TARIFF

The tariff is quite as mysterious as the radio, but there are some miracles it cannot perform. It cannot, for instance, make the farmers of the United States prosperous. Indeed, as it has been operating during the last two or three years it has added to their burden, because it has increased through excessive protection to manufacturers the prices of what they buy, and it has not increased the price of what they sell. No other one political bait has been used to fool the farmer so much as that of the blessings in store for him from a protective tariff.

When we started back on the road to normalcy one of the first things undertaken was to make the farmer prosperous. An emergency tariff bill was passed, placing a duty on wheat, even before Mr. Harding got to the White house. This was followed by a permanent act framed upon "scientific lines." The price of wheat since the march back to normalcy began, and its relation to the Liverpool price, are the answer to this political hocus-pocus.

After a couple of years of experience with the tariff and the failure of wheat to respond, the best minds decided that what was needed was more tariff, so they induced the president on March 7th of this year to increase the duty another 12 cents. By all the laws of politics and ledgerdom the price of wheat should have followed the boost in duty. By the law of supply and demand, and the world price fixed in the Liverpool market, this is what happened: The day the presidential decree was put into effect May wheat in the Chicago market stood at $1.11, (we omit fractions of a cent.) One week later it was down to $1.09. At the end of the second week it was down to $1.06. At the end of the third week it was $1.00. The total loss to date since the presidential order is approximately 11 cents.

What does the farmer gather from this? Where is the additional price he was to receive from the added tariff? We wonder if the Old Guard politicians really believe they can get away with this sort of a demonstration of the workings of the tariff on wheat?

COOLIDGE AND SOUTH DAKOTA

Very few persons expected Mr. Coolidge to carry South Dakota over the roaring exponent of soft progressivism, Hiram Johnson. If there is one spot in the country where the roving politician, with fantastic ideas for curing human ills, is likely to find a welcome reception it is in the land of the Dakotas. Considering the fact that the organization was behind Johnson, and that the Californian had stamped the state, the vote given Mr. Coolidge, only slightly below the Johnson vote, is quite remarkable. It indicates, we think, that moderate level-headed Republicans throughout the country want Coolidge nominated.

For the moment the voters are thinking only of the contest for the nomination. They separate the president from the mire in which the party is wallowing and look upon him as a personality rather than a party. Of course there are many politicians who look to Coolidge merely to "save the party," but we do not think that is the attitude of the rank and file. They seem to be for Coolidge because they think they can look to him for clean and honest government. After he is nominated party survival will be another matter. People may rally to the salvation of the G. O. P., and again they may not. It is hard to tell what they will do. Certainly the Republicans have nothing on which to base an appeal except Mr. Coolidge himself.

Mr. Johnson's candidacy assumes no added importance by reason of his having carried South Dakota. The Californian is merely entertaining himself with his delusions. If the kind of "progress" the Northwest is obsessed with is going to prevail in 1924, it could never be under the leadership of Mr. Johnson. Mr. La Follette will attend to that. The honor of leadership belongs exclusively to Wisconsin and her favorite son.

FOOD THAT STAYS BY YOU

There was a newspaper legend several years ago to the effect that John D. Rockefeller thought a whole lot of his first stomach and was willing to pay more than a nickel for a second stomach if he could get one. Well, most of us have a second stomach, like a cow. I say like a cow—maybe I am wrong about that, but the cow is generally conceded several stomachs. The Chinese legend about doctors is still current—I heard a Professor McElroy get it off in a radio talk about conditions in China only the other day and nobody laughed. So I feel only the other day and nobody laughed. So I feel entitled to refer to the cow's string of stomachs, am-anthology to virtually and so far as all digestive purposes are concerned. The upper or first stomach is the one we like to blame for a lot of difficulties which really arise from lesions of the lower or second stomach. Most of our food is digested in the lower stomach. With a little special care and precaution about feeding, one may worry along for several months or years after total removal of the upper or first stomach, but when any considerable part of the second or lower stomach becomes injured or diseased or destroyed, life is very difficult. The lower stomach is commonly called the duodenum and it is here that all carbohydrate foods are digested and most of the process of digestion of proteins and fats is conducted. The pancreatic juice is delivered to the duodenum; so is the bile. These juices are even more essential for digestion than is the gastric juice.

Working people have a conviction that certain foods "stay by you" and they assume that such foods are preferable to maintain strength and warmth and supply muscular energy. A food which stays by literally remains longer in the upper stomach. While something remains in the stomach the normal tonic contraction of the empty stomach is postponed and the rhythmic peristaltic contractions which amount to hunger pangs are delayed. So the food that "stays by you" is the food that puts off your appetite or hunger for a longer time. That does not mean that it gives you any more strength or energy than food which leaves the stomach in a shorter time.

Protein foods (meat, cheese, white of egg, fish, peas, beans, nuts) remain longer in the upper stomach than carbohydrates (bread, cereals, starchy vegetables, sugars and sweets) do, but ounce for ounce the carbohydrates yield quite as much energy as the proteins do. The fats and oils remain longer than the carbohydrates, but not so long as the proteins, and fats yield nearly twice as much energy as proteins do.

The average mixed meal is not entirely out of the stomach in less than four hours, but parts of it have passed through the stomach and are as far as the ileo-caecal valve before the last of it leaves the first stomach. A meal of bread ordinarily leaves the stomach within 1½ hours; if meat is taken with it the time is prolonged to four hours or more. Cheese, being a mixture of protein and fat, has good staying value. Water remains but a few minutes in the stomach, little or none of it being absorbed from the first stomach.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Paraffin Lump.
Fifteen years ago while engaged in theatrical work, I was foolish enough to have some filling put into my face—paraffin injections. Now in the filling there are inflamed lumps and the doctor I have consulted is not familiar with such cases. Please recommend a surgeon who understands paraffin problems. I am suffering and may have to have the lumps removed.
(Mrs. L. G. B.)

Answer.—There is seldom anything that can be done, and surgeons hesitate to attempt to dissect out the masses, because too much scar is likely to remain, but sometimes that is necessary to prevent malignant disease. I know of no surgeon particularly competent to do such work. It is a great mistake to have paraffin injected merely for cosmetic purposes, though the method is sometimes advisable to diminish a defect which is not amenable to surgery.

ROLLO.—This must be the time for the baby harvest. A classified ad column advertised ten baby carriages for sale in one issue.

---Pecksniff.

Ten prominent young Appleton women and young matrons have bobbed their hair within the past three days.

In spite of the comments of friends that they "would never have thought it," and that they "may be sorry," the ten are revelling in the short locks they have thought about and dreamed about for the last year or so.

The most popular roadhouse, thinks Mawruse, is a little shack built on a jitney chassis.

The dead man ran nearly a half mile in an endeavor to reach his home on the outskirts of Sturges but the pursuit overtook him. The dead man then fought courageously, although stabbed in several places by that time.

---Sturges Democrat.

TRAINING FOR MARRIAGE

Taking up Mrs. G. W.'s thrust about the column's metamorphosis into a matrimonial bureau, we wish to offer a few suggestions on how to train for marriage. These hints are thoroughly approved by Neil Brinkley, Beatrice Fairbank, Annie Layrie, and the rest of the old school. The following advice is for men:

First, take an inventory of your physical appearance. If your nose is too long, put it to the grindstone. If it's too short, make a long nose at some one, but be sure it's not a prize fighter, he may flatten it still more.

Chinning exercises will remove one or two chins, or possibly even three, if you have a greasy complexion, try washing it with soap and water occasionally. If you squint, practice being attentive to two women at the same time. If you are bowlegged, see a hair raising movie; the picture may cause your knees to knock together and correct your defect. If you have long fingers, try to be honest at least during Leap Year. To put on a bold front, open the two top buttons of your vest.

Although a bobbed hair girl may be as pretty as a picture, yet to set it off at better advantage she must have a good frame.

The fever has spread even as far as the courthouse. There are twelve girls working there steadily. The score is six bobbed and six maternal. How are you betting?

ROLLO.

Editor's note.—This column is open to all readers of The Post-Crescent who wish to express themselves on topics of interest. Communications are invited. Contributors must sign their names, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

NAME IT CALIFORNIA-AVE

Los Angeles, Editor Post-Crescent: Ament the running of certain streets in Appleton, I learn from the Post-Crescent, a regular and welcome visitor to our household, that two groups of citizens residing along two important thoroughfares, are in conflict each wishing its distinctive street renamed Wisconsin street or Wisconsin avenue.

Now we have a Wisconsin street in Los Angeles and there is a Wisconsin street or Wisconsin ave in San Diego, and a principal business street of Watsonville, contiguous to which town these wonderful Newton pippins grow, is called Appleton-st.

Such being the case, why should it not be reciprocally complimentary and serve to draw the Middle West and the Far West into closer bonds of appreciation and understanding, for the two groups of Appleton citizens to compose their differences by agreeing to rename one of those contested streets (the prettier one, naturally), California-st or California-ave?

Sincerely yours, Edward P. Humphrey.

ON KEEPING ROADS OPEN

High Cliff.—Through these columns I wish to express my disapproval of the deplorable condition in which the road between High Cliff P. O. and Sherwood has been kept during winter. The forepart of last week the snow for over a day and the men were obliged to shovel themselves out. In the evening after a hard day's shoveling they abandoned the truck, and went at it again in the morning. Thursday the DeLauffer truck met with the same fate as also did a number of other cars.

This is a star route and should be kept open and in a good condition to permit the mailman to travel without risking his life. A petition has been circulated and presented to the Town Board to oust inefficient pathmasters. I believe this is a move in the right direction and should find the approval of the board.

Strangers driving through our town should not be obliged to open our roads, where taxpayers are only too glad to open them if they were permitted to do so.

It does not seem right that pioneer residents should be obliged to take orders from inefficient school boys.

Mary Bruhl.

GRAVEL ROADS TOO SOFT FOR HEAVY MOTOR BUSES

Highway 31 is said to be open between Fond du Lac and Madison but on account of the soft condition of the gravel roads between Columbus and Sun Prairie, highway commissioners have asked the Eastern Wisconsin Transportation company not to run its buses over the gravel until the roads become firmer. The company is complying with the request and is running its buses only between Madison and Columbus over concrete roads. Both highways between Fond du Lac and Milwaukee are still impassable for motor transport buses, it is said.

GULBRANSEN The Registering Piano

Years of devotion, endless experiments, carefully guarded patents have produced in the Gulbransen an instrument of the highest musical ability—therefore—

Easy to Play

First, it is physically easy to play. The baby trade mark was suggested by a certain baby who did play a Gulbransen—just as shown in the picture.

Second, you can play the Gulbransen with satisfying expression, because you produce the expression as naturally as you breathe, and as easily.

The Gulbransen, in operation is like a deep-breathing, well-trained singer compared to the "out of breath," gasping beginner.

In fact, you can judge any player-piano, like a singer—by the "out of breath" test.

Try This "Breath" Test

Play a heavily scored piece on the Gulbransen, pedaling with only one foot. Try to pedal slowly.

With most any player-piano this is tiresome. But the Gulbransen is easy to manage with one pedal. It is never "out of breath."

Using both pedals, you need scarcely move them to play the Gulbransen softly. And a great crashing chord requires but an extra touch.

This easy breathing of the Gulbransen is what makes it a truly satisfying musical instrument—as flexible as a trained singer's voice—as easily controlled.

Try this one-pedal "breath" test at our store. You will be pleasantly surprised.

Nationally Priced

Gulbransen Registering Pianos are sold at the same price to everybody, everywhere in the United States. The price of each instrument is burned into the back of the case before it leaves the factory. Four Models:

White House Model $650 Suburban Model $495 Country Seat Model $575 Community Model $420

A free test of a way to fight film on teeth

This ten-day test is yours for the asking. It will show you the way to whiter, cleaner teeth. It will convince you that old methods of teeth cleaning are wrong. Let us prove that to you.

Film—your enemy

That viscous film you feel on teeth is the foe you have to fight. It clings and stays. No ordinary tooth paste can effectively combat it.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. That is why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus film causes most tooth troubles.

Modern science has for years sought ways to fight that film, and two methods have been found. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation, one removes it without harmful scouring.

These methods have proved themselves effective in many cases.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

ful tests. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Leading dentists everywhere began to advise it. Now careful people the world over employ this new-day method.

You'll quickly see

Pepsodent brings astonishing results. It does more than fight film. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, which is there to neutralize mouth acids. It multiplies the pytalins in saliva, which is there to digest starch deposits on teeth.

These combined results will be a revelation to you.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

LOST DAUPHIN'S GRAND-DAUGHTER WILL TRAVEL WEST

Departure Will Take Place After Eleazer Williams Relics Are Sold

Onida—Josephine Phillips, grand-daughter, of the late Eleazer Williams the supposed "Lost Dauphin of France," expects to leave the historic homestead on the Fox river near De Pere in the near future to take up residence in the west. She is more than 71 years old. Her nephew, "Thod" Phillips, will live on the farm which was occupied in earlier years by Williams, one of the first white men ever coming to Wisconsin. The aged woman reserves the right, however, to return to the farm if the longing for the old homestead becomes too great.

An auction was held a few days ago at which a part of the personal effects of Eleazer Williams was sold at the home. The relics of historic value were withheld, however, and will be offered at a later sale. Josephine Phillips is the grand-daughter of "Nanny" Williams, adopted daughter of Mrs. Williams, who was born on Feb. 2, 1853, and has made her home in the old house since. Eleazer Williams died in 1858. During the many years that she has lived in the historic old house on the Fox, she has made it indeed her home, for until recently she never traveled and has only been out of the state once.

TO LIVE IN OREGON
Fear came into the eyes of this pioneer as she watched piece after piece of their belongings knocked down under the hammer of the auctioneer. She expects to leave soon for Portland, Ore., with her son-in-law, Charles Schultz, and she was wondering whether she would be contented, or whether the strings that bind one to home would be too strong to resist.

Pride is evident in the manner of the old lady as she describes what she knew of the relics of Eleazer Williams, the "Lost Dauphin." Although many from surrounding cities, including a professor from Lawrence college came with the expectation of being able to purchase some of the relics, none were offered for sale, for the family had been advised by some collectors who came before the sale, to wait until the roads were open for travel and people who would care for the relics and fully appreciate their value, would have an opportunity to visit the place. A special auction of the relics will be held at a later date.

TRUNK GUARDED ZEALOUSLY
An old trunk, full of the belongings of this pioneer missionary, was guarded most zealously and exhibited only to a few who were interested. They took no chance of having any of the articles mixed up with those for sale. Included in the list which make up the collection is a letter to Eleazer Williams, written in 1851 when there were no envelopes; a letter to Mrs. Eleazer Williams from her sister in the Astor, written in 1841; a telescope said to have been used by Eleazer Williams in the War of 1812; a butter knife; its ivory handle yellow with age; ancient andirons, old scales, birch bark boxes, a teapot whose handle had been replaced with one of cut glass with string; a metal plate bearing the words "Eleazer Williams, Green Bay," found in the yard by Robert Schultz, son of the great granddaughter, are also in the collection.

MANY DOCUMENTS BURNED
A large number of books, mostly of a religious character, and an interesting collection and most interesting among these was one which was a sort of an account book and contained names of many of the early pioneers. Many of the old papers and documents have been burned, according to Mrs. Phillips, and some were sold. The rest of the collection will be offered at a special sale at a later date. And in the meantime Mrs. Phillips will begin her plans for her trip to the west.

MARINETTE-CO EAGER FOR CLEANUP OF T. B.

Marinette—In an effort to secure consent of 60 per cent of the cattle owners of Marinette county to the bacterin test, Charles Drewry, county agent, is circulating petitions to be displayed at every precinct in the county at the April election. Following a talk by the county agent, the support of county board members was pledged and each town chairman delegated to aid in distribution of the petitions. Public sentiment is believed to favor the plan, and it is not thought that great difficulty will be experienced in securing the required number of signatures.

SEAT SALE FOR SCHOOL OPERETTA STARTS TUESDAY

High School Students Put Final Touches on Chinese Musical Play

Kaukauna—Sale of reserved seats for the high school operetta "The China Shop" to be presented Thursday and Friday in the high school auditorium, will begin at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at Grauer's Record store on the north side and at Loeck's drug store on the south side. General admission tickets have been on sale for some time by students of the high school. Those tickets may be exchanged for reserved seat tickets upon payment of the war tax at either of the drug stores. In order to cut expenses to the minimum, tickets were furnished by Fuller-Goodman Co. while programs will be provided by Mulford's. The entire auditorium as well as the stage will be elaborately decorated in an attempt to create a Chinese atmosphere. Grade children are assisting in preparing the decorations. Eight girls, dressed in picturesque Chinese costumes, will act as ushers. They are Molly Goldin, Marie Mayer, Ruth Winge, Catherine Kirkman, Florence Wodzenski, Valeria Cox, Ione Hilgenberg, and Genevieve Frank. A matinee for all school children will be given Thursday afternoon. Arrangements are being made to have the children of all city schools excused earlier than usual.

VOTE CASH TO FIND LOST WOODSMAN

Vilas-co Hopes to Solve Mystery of Woods—Also to Stop Moonshining

Eagle River—The Vilas county board has appropriated $1,000 to be expended by the district attorney for the purpose of investigating the mysterious disappearance of Charles Carrigan, an old trapper, near Boulder Junction over a year ago. It is the supposition that Carrigan was murdered and his body concealed somewhere near High Lake, north of Boulder Junction. In an effort to suppress moonshining in Vilas county the board has appropriated $1,500 to be used at the discretion of the district attorney in prosecuting alleged violators. Many liquor cases were on the calendars of the last two terms of Circuit court. Convictions were obtained in some cases and a number were held over in continuance. With the present appropriation county officers look for a cleanup of cases in the future, being assured of funds to secure sufficient evidence to convict.

TRAP BOGUS RAIL GUIDE PROMOTER; GET BACK $200

Manitowoc—More than $200 was refunded to a score of business men here when activities of one Harry J. Clark, solicitor for a bogus railway guide, were investigated. The money was turned over by Clark to avoid prosecution. The stranger arrived in Manitowoc and purported to represent the Consolidated Railway Men's Service and Seniority fund, an apparently legitimate organization, according to Clark. He solicited advertisements for and subscriptions to the guide, and requested checks be made payable to himself. Francis X. Murphy, manager of the Manitowoc Land and Fuel company, became suspicious when Clark asked him to loan something for the "railroad boys" and he did. He called upon the railroad office and then investigation followed. After refunding $202.50, Clark was allowed to leave the city.

MAN IS ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING DOGS

Fort Atkinson—David Goddard, Fort Atkinson, was arrested by R. T. Lawton, Jefferson county humane officer, on a criminal charge of killing two dogs and wounding one. He was fined $10 by Justice John Hanks. District Attorney Kuenzli then ordered Mr. Goddard arrested on a criminal charge and he was bound over until the September term of Circuit court. He furnished bail for $500. The dogs were highly valued by their owners, one being a water spaniel and the other a hound.

STORM CRIPPLES GREEN BAY LINE

Special to Post-Crescent
Kaukauna—Little damage resulted in Kaukauna as a result of the severe snow storm and blizzard which swept over this section Friday evening and Saturday although some decidedly uncompromising remarks were uttered by disgruntled citizens who had been expecting Miss Spring and a little increase in business. While the city streets were not made impassable, it was decidedly difficult to get around in an automobile and delivery service was considerably hampered. Interurban service to Green Bay was crippled early in the battle. No cars came through Saturday but by Sunday the tracks had been cleared and service was resumed on schedule on Monday. Trains were running late. There was little or no service into Kaukauna on the Ashland division and on Monday trains were stopped altogether. The tracks were blocked near Reedsville when an engine and snowplow tipped over.

YOUTH PREVENTS MAN'S DROWNING

Sheboygan—Franklin attempting to drown himself in the Sheboygan river near Kohler, Jacob Root, 33 years old, was only saved from committing the third suicide in Sheboygan county within the week by the desperate efforts of 17 year old Carl Sars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sars, of Kohler. Root had gone from Sheboygan to Kohler, where he was employed, and applied at the Kohler plant for medical aid. He ran out of the doctor's office, frightened the wife and children of Anton Braun by brandishing a large club, then ran into the home of Mrs. George Zabel where he entreated protection from some one he thought was going to hang him. Young Sars and other boys gave him chase through the swampy land near Kohler in the pitch darkness Sars clung to the trail and held Root from throwing himself into the river from the bank. At one time during the struggle both rolled down the embankment. Root is at the county jail awaiting the examination of a commission into his sanity. John Ten Pas of Waldo, shooting himself, and Fred Myer of Glenbeulah hanging himself, both prominent farmers, were suicides in the last few days.

INVITE PUBLIC TO SPEAKING CONTEST

Kaukauna—A large attendance on the part of the public is desired at the oratorical and declamatory contest among local high school students to be held Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. Four boys and four girls who were chosen as the best speakers in Friday afternoon's elimination contest will compete for final honors. One winner in each class will represent the high school in the league contest to be held next Friday, April 1st.

NEW 7-DAY MILK TEST IS STARTED

Every Herd in Watertown Association Will Have Annual Production Test
Watertown—One of the most important steps for the improvement of the quality of dairy products from herds owned by members of the Watertown Milk Producers' association has been started here. A seven day composite butter fat test of each individual cow owned by members of the association has been decided upon and several farmers have already begun the work. According to Senator John C. Schuman, secretary one test is planned each year for the first several years and after that the number will be increased to two or three annually. "In order to do this," said Senator Schuman, "a composite milk jar will be used by the farmer. The owner whose herd is to be tested will weigh the milk and place a sample of it in separate jars each night and morning for seven consecutive days. The samples will then be tested by the organization and a record kept. The reason for carrying on this work will be, first to supply the dairymen with knowledge of his most productive cows, and, second, so that a farmer will be able to keep tab on the test he receives where the milk is sold. "No doubt the idea will spread to other sections of the state. Watertown dairymen have taken up the milk production question seriously and are doing everything in their power to better it. When better means for improvement are advanced we shall again be one of the first to adopt them."

FOND DU LAC MEN BUY MUSKRATS FROM STATE

Fond du Lac—Forty-four muskrats have been purchased from the state by Tom and Frank Kelly on a farm near here for 50 cents each. The purchase was the first made in this vicinity under a law passed by the legislature, providing for sale of the fur bearing animals by the state. A "census was made of the number of rats in a swamp on the Kelly farm and the men paid for the rats accordingly. They are privileged to kill the animals for fur or conserve them as they wish. Under state law, signs proclaiming "fur farms" must be erected where the land owner buys animals to free them from interference of trappers and hunters. Try a Post-Crescent Want Ad

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT,

"Would it have been, John, an unparadiseable sin if Ruth had come by that money in either of the ways you mention?" I asked sarcastically, for I was very angry by this time.

"Surely, even the most honorable of men must realize that Ruth Ellington could not conveniently starve just because her blackguard husband has not only betrayed all his friends but betrayed her as well. Suppose Ruth had a little money—that she had put away from the meager sums Harry Ellington had given her. It was hers, was it not? Do you think she would have given it up to his creditors presumably to white wash a reputation that was beyond repair? Would you, for instance have taken, as something rightfully belonging to you, the very money she depended upon to open a little business whereby she might make an honest living after all her life had been shattered into bits by a dirty scoundrel?"

"Of course not, Leslie! I am just telling you what people are saying." "Then when they say it to you, Jack, it is up to you to say to them just what I have been telling you." "Everybody doesn't say that, Leslie. More people are saying that Walter Burke gave her the money." "Well let's look at that without prejudice. When Harry Ellington left his wife without a cent and she had no way to turn, and all you men who had befriended him declined to befriend the woman he had betrayed even worse than he had you—"

"Hold on, Leslie, she never came to me for anything. And knowing her as I do, I know she probably did not go to Walter Burke for anything. But you must have known she was penniless. We will put the case a little differently. Suppose your friend, Sydney Carion, had left Paula Perier without a cent, isn't it just possible that you might have felt you should do something for the poor girl?"

Jack, who was standing by the mantel, dropped heavily into a chair. "My God, Leslie, what do you mean by that?" "Just exactly what I say. Would you advise either Paula Perier or Ruth Ellington to starve rather than to take money from a friend just because that friend happened to be a man? Of course, John, I am only supposing cases, but I tell you honestly if I were in Ruth's place I would have kept everything I could out of the wreck and I would have taken from any one of the men I knew enough money to set me up in business. I think Ruth has been very brave in the matter and I am going to stand by her through thick and thin."

"Well, I never did like her." "I can't help whether you like her or not, Jack, you have a great many friends that I don't like and you are hanging to a man now that is making both you and me a great deal of trouble. I don't see how Sydney Carion thinks he is going to get out of this matter. You say he has gone out to Hollywood. Even if he marries that girl, with all the gossip there has been about her, surely he cannot bring her back here."

"My God, my God! How women do jump at conclusions!" shouted Jack as he went out of the door. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Adventures Of The Twins

A VERY TALL RIDDLE

"Put on your thinking caps, everybody," said the Riddle Lady. "It's going to take a lot of thinking today to guess the new riddle I've made up."

"I'm ready!" said Nick.

"So am I!" said Nancy.

"So are we!" declared the sprats and the Tuckers and the Tweedles and the Crooked Man and the Widow Grundy and the Peters Petereses and everybody.

"All right," said the Riddle Lady. "Here we go:

"Like Jack's magic beanstalk, I grow very high. And so thin that my ribs are quite plain: But I've never yet managed to quite touch the sky. Or discover the giant's domain."

"But I look with great ease o'er your high garden wall. I can see in your window at night. And to lean on your chimney's no effort at all. So enormously great is my height."

"At house-cleaning time in the spring of the year, I have barrels and barrels of fun. For I help with the painting and scrubbing, my dear, And I'm much in demand till it's done."

"I help to hang awnings and tack on the screens. And see to it that curtains are straight; For cleaning the wall-papers I am the means. Oh, house-cleaning time is just great."

"And for adventures I've many a thrill; When loudly the fire-whistle blows,

I rush like the wind and then bravely stand still. While the firemen climb up with the hose.

"Sometimes I have two legs and often I've four. But I boast of no muscle at all. Divided I stand when I'm set on the floor. But united I'd be sure to fall."

"Though high, I am lowly, I'd no'er raise my eyes To positions of honor and fame. In the world I have helped many people to rise. But they all step on me just the same."

"I'll bet you I know what it is," cried Wee Willie Winkie. "Because when I run around the town at night sometimes I have to have one to reach the children's windows and tell them it's bedtime. It's a ladder." "Yes, sir!" nodded the Riddle Lady. "That's right! And you get the prize. A nice new magic ladder of your own!" (To Be Continued)

FOLKS ARE ASKING AT LIBRARY FOR BIRD LIFE BOOKS

"The Able McLaughlins" Still
Is in Greatest Demand by Appleton Readers

With the return of the first birds there is a steady demand at Appleton Public Library for books on birds, not by any one author, but just bird books, so the librarians say. The spring is one of the best times to study birds and their habits, so those who are particularly interested and who wish to become familiar with their habits are procuring books that give a synopsis of the life and habits of birds. Many persons have asked to borrow pictures of birds.

Most of the books are on the list of the most popular are those that you have heard of before. Margaret Wilson's book, "The Able McLaughlins," is very popular right now and so is "Robin" by Frances Hodson Burnett. "Robin" is a rather silly story of a rather silly, spineless girl who seems to wonder what its all about instead of going out and doing things. The book is not new, but the demand for it has been steady.

Emerson Hough, who wrote "The Covered Wagon," which is very popular in the cause of quite a bit of comment. Hough isn't living, so William MacLeod Raine, another author of western fiction has stepped to the front defending Hough from those who would attack him by saying he writes not from experience or close contact with facts, but from what has been told him.

MacLeod says that Hough is a reviewer who attacks Hough for the authenticity of one of his late books and says that the writer didn't go west until the frontier episodes in "North of 28" was ended and that as a tenderfoot he was "filled with amazing tales designed to flabbergast green Easterners."

THERE ARE OTHERS
MacLeod says this is amusing and goes on to prove that Hough knows what he is talking about. This little war need not be confined to Hough for there are plenty of western authors who might be challenged. Do these numerous authors of western stories know what they're talking about and what is their proof for supposedly true historical episodes? At any rate Mr. Henry got a "rise" out of William MacLeod Raine, who can spin as interesting and as exciting a tale of western life as you can wish for.

"Children of Loneliness" is Anzia Zevelerska's newest offering of immigrant life and from descriptions of it is just as vivid and colorful as her earlier attempts. The authoress, herself an immigrant, has fought a fight filled with hardships of almost every description. Although she has attained success, Anzia Zevelerska has never forgotten the aspirations and motives which guide her fellow immigrants, but has remembered them and perhaps immortalized them with her writings.

Stories of birds are popular in the children's department as well as in the adults', according to reports from the department, and one of the most popular is the bird book by T. S. Burgess. Two pioneer books, "Stories of Pioneer Life" by Florence Bass and "Pioneers of America" by A. F. Blaisdell have had special notice from the little folks.

'JIMMY' HERRON MAY ADDRESS C. C.

Noted Scotch Comedian Will Be Invited to Annual Dinner
April 14

"Jimmy" Herron, noted Scotch comedian, probably will be invited here to feature the program at the annual dinner of the chamber of commerce April 14 at Vermeulen's. The chamber is not sure that he has an open date at that time but is in communication with him.

Other plans for the dinner are not definite. Reports of the year's work will be submitted by Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary, and by the chairman of the standing committees. A roundtable discussion also will be arranged so members may offer constructive criticism of the chamber's work and further suggestions for further activities.

Joseph Roffend, Jr., is chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner.

BIG DAM AT WAUSAU ALMOST COMPLETED

Construction work on the new dam of Wausau Paper Mill company across Wisconsin river at Brekaw is practically completed, according to Edward Maurer, who returned from a business trip to that village Thursday.

The new structure is located just below the old dam which is now being blasted out and as a precaution against high water a large crew of men is engaged in filling in the sheet piling at one end which goes down to bed rock, a distance of more than 40 feet. A tramway and gasoline engine are being used for hauling the gravel filling.

The new dam is provided with eleven steel gates upon which was commenced last summer and a time day and night crews were employed. The river still is frozen over and it was only Wednesday that the hauling of loads across it on the ice was discontinued.

City Carefully Guards Street Department Data

What if the city hall should some day burn to the ground and all its contents be totally destroyed?

The recorded work of more than a life time would be obliterated, documents guarded from the beginning of the city's history would be lost and many of them could never be replaced.

To replace those that are capable of being replaced would require years of labor and an enormous outlay of money.

Not the least valuable of these documents are the records of the engineering department. They have little pecuniary value, from marketable standpoint; few persons probably would be tempted to buy them, even for their historical value.

Yet the preservation of these records saves the city many hours of labor and a good deal of expense. If, for example, the maps and tracings of a single sewer, were destroyed, it would probably mean many haphazard attempts to dig down to the sewer, or whenever an extension or a service connection would be made necessary.

DUPLICATE RECORDS
To prevent such a misfortune, the city of Appleton has provided several means for safeguarding these records. The engineering office possesses no vault, it is true, although a former engineer often expressed the need for it. Should a new city hall be built, it is probable that vaults will be provided for the various departments, as is the case in the different offices in the courthouse.

The engineering department records are, however, filed in steel filing cabinets. Further protection is afforded through a method of duplication.

A card index is kept of all existing sewers, water mains, pavements, sidewalks, electric lights, etc., in the city. A record even of gas mains and underground telephone cables is kept for use in connection with pavement data.

MEAN MUCH LABOR
Should the card index ever be lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, the department would, for example, in locating a part of a sewer, resort to a ledger book system which contains a diagram of the location of the sewer, its catchbasins, manholes, inlets, and T's. Should this too become lost, the department would still have its maps made from tracings which show the exact measurements of the sewer, such as depth, distance from curb, size of pipe, etc. Should these maps be destroyed, the original tracings would still be on file in the vault of the city clerk's office. Under these circumstances, the total loss of the records is highly improbable, although even a partial loss would cause a good deal of renewed labor.

Aside from the time sheets of the street and engineering department employees, records of the building inspection bureau, special assessments against property owners for street improvements, the records of this office include: Blue prints, VanDyke prints and other maps of the city; maps of existing and prospective street plans; maps showing the street numbers of every building or future building of the city; maps showing the location and nature of the various street pavements; maps indicating the sidewalks, sewers, water mains, hydrants, electric lights and other factors of street improvement.

The production of these maps is the result of surveys, painstaking tracing and blue print work. To repeat the entire work would be an enormous task, for some of the records date back as far as the city's infancy in the days of John Stevens, the first surveyor of Appleton.

In the last 10 years, 5,000 patents have been granted American women, more than the total for 105 years previous.

Timbers from the historic "Mayflower" have been discovered to have been used in building a tavern in Buckingshire, England.

BADGER BASEBALL TEAM WILL START ON TRIP FRIDAY

Coach Lowman Has Wealth of Material But Few Veterans on Squad

Madison — The Wisconsin university baseball squad will hop off Friday for the south and an eight game training tour in preparation for the western conference schedule which opens for the Badgers at Chicago on April 15. Coach Guy S. Lowman will pilot the local team on the southern trip which will take the team into Indiana, Illinois, Mississippi and Alabama.

The Badger team as yet has not been on the local diamond and will have opportunity to get accustomed to the field before they open the home schedule against Northwestern on April 19. However, Coach Lowman has been giving his men lectures with illustrated slides and moving pictures on the finer points of the training season.

Coch Lowman has a wealth of material for the team, he reports, although only four candidates have seen previous service with Wisconsin. The team will be directed by Captain Aschenbrenner, an experienced catcher, Johnson, pitcher, Ellington, second base and Servatius, outfielder, constitute the veterans of the team. In addition to Johnson, Lowman also has Oscar Christianson of Cambridge, Wis., as another experienced thrower. Other pitching candidates include Luther of Stanley, Porter and Ritchie, Evanston, and Lloyd Hanson, Deerfield.

STIRBLING MEETS M'TIGUE IN NEWARK

Newark, N. J. — Mike McTigue of Ireland, lightweight world champion and Young Stribling of Macon, Ga., met Monday night in a 12-round no decision fight.

Stribling has advanced rapidly through six divisions within the last three years and first attracted wide attention in his bout with McTigue at Columbus, Ga., where the champion alleged a partisan crowd attempted to intimidate him and the referee. Since that battle Stribling has fought successfully and often but never has been sensational. He was outpointed in Buffalo several weeks ago by Jimmy Slattery.

YANKS INCLUDE GRID STARS IN NEW LINEUP

The New York Yankees have a bunch of college football stars on its roster. Mike Gazella, of Lafayette, Hinkle Haines of Penn State, Jimmie Vanderbilt and Gehrig of Columbia, now with the Yankees, were gridiron celebrities at college.

St. Louis — The Fall River Mass. football club won the American soccer championship by defeating the Vesperburgs of St. Louis, 4 to 2.

MAJOR LEAGUE MOGULS SWEEP OUT FAILURES

Rookies Sent Back to Bushes As Big Top Loops Prepare for Action

Training Camps — Swinging into the home stretch, major league clubs, conditioning in the south and on the Pacific coast, find themselves with practically the same lineups as those which finished the season last year or with men who have come to them or purchases from other major league clubs.

For the most part, the men who are to undergo the smoothing-off process from now until the opening of the season are veterans. There are a few newcomers on some of the infields, outfields and catching but the bulk of untried material is to be found in the pitching department.

Recruits who gave promise and afforded much copy for newspaper correspondents in various camps have in most instances flattered out and are either enticed to a minor league or will be on their way before the week end. However there are some instances where youngsters are causing managers considerable worry. The New York Yankees sent seven men out for more seasoning, Adolfo Arguero, six foot pitcher, who came from Corcoran in the Texas association, and pitcher George Dumont, purchased from the Atlanta Southern association club have been both returned. Pitchers Henry Swenson and W. L. Owen have been released to the Eastern league and Pitcher Bernie Thompson probably will go to New Orleans. Catcher William Mahoney was released to Milwaukee and George Redfern, infielder, went to Asheville.

AWAIT CHIEF CHANCE

John Irman, who came to the Chicago White Sox from Maysville, Ky., is the only man who has been released so far, the club carrying 53 players as far as Chicago where they are waiting for a chance to be released. A number of men are listed for release at that time. Acting Manager Evers, having kept a close watch on the club being ready to report to Chance when the "peerless leader" takes over the manager ship.

Most of the clubs Sunday busied themselves with packing for the homeward journey.

Johnny Jones, $25,000 Pacific Coast leaguer, reported to Manager Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers and will play shortstop, which will enable Johnston to shift to second, with High at third.

Three clubs broke camp Sunday. The Giants going from Sarasota Fla. to Orlind where they open with the White Sox who left Winterhaven Monday morning.

The Yankees pulled into Mobile, and Brooklyn journeyed to Tampa. Clubs on the Pacific coast worked in double bills on the sabbath, Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cubs, playing morning and afternoon games with the Pacific Coast leaguers. The Pirates squad was split, the first team playing at San Francisco and the second team at Los Angeles.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

On the outcome of the Stribling-McTigue championship battle in Newark Monday night hinges the question of whether the Georgia schoolboy will fight "Gunner" Joe Quinn in Armory G here on April 11. If Stribling wins the championship, "Pa" will demand a $100,000 guarantee for his next fight, and such a sum would be out of the question for a city of this size. If Mike keeps his crown, Stribling's price will be slightly more than $2,000 and the "Gunner" gets his big chance.

Prospects for baseball of any kind are gloomy in Green Bay. The Lynchemen dropped out of the State League recently and planned to enter a class B loop which was supposed to be in the process of organization at that time. The every day league did not materialize, and now Green Bay is left out in the cold.

Harry Willis, giant Negro heavyweight, will have plenty of chances to fight head here this year. According to reports, Paddy Mullins has signed for bouts with Spilla, Pirro, and Demian. The Little with Spilla, the Italian champ, and Pirro, Argentine "bull" will lead up to a try at the championship in which the "cloud" plans to turn into a storm which he hopes will drown Dempsey. Willis has been trying to get these chances for some time, but it is to be hoped he is satisfied now that he has them.

Appleton high school dropped out of the running for the state basketball championship when a lucky basket by a Fond du Lac man with less than ten seconds to go gave the Fruthmen a victory in the semi-finals. According to the rule of the tournament, any team which lost after the first day's play dropped out completely, so the Orange lost both its chance at the championship and the consolation title.

Jack Zwick Friday showed a flash of his old time ability when he took nine out of ten rounds in his battle with Roy Conley, the "fighting parson," in the Green Bay headliner. The Shiek had the best of it up to the tenth, when Conley came back, and slightly shaded the Kangaroo man.

Fohl Makes Modest Claim

LEFT TO RIGHT: ULRIK, MARSHALL, FUHR, RECRUIT PITCHERS, MANAGER LEE FOHL IN BACKGROUND.

San Antonio, Tex. — Manager Lee Fohl of the Boston Red Sox is not strong for winning a national pennant, he much prefers delivering on the ball field. The only prediction that he will make on the 1924 American League race is this:

"The Boston Red Sox will not finish in last place."

The Boston Red Sox manager is getting every thrill that goes with the job of a major league leader, also more than his share of disappointment.

Fohl, after building the Cleveland club from an ordinary aggregation to a pennant contender was deposed only to have his club go out and win a pennant and a world series the following year under Tris Speaker.

Then came a chance with the St. Louis Browns. In a few years, under Fohl's direction, they came within a game of winning the American League pennant.

Picked to beat out the Yankees in 1923, Fohl's first bit of woe was George Sisler's eye affliction, which deprived him of the services of the most valuable player in baseball.

That bit of hard luck broke down the morale of the club and killed the team's chances from the start.

Now Fohl, who for several years has been with pennant contenders, takes charge of a tail end club. He is working under the opportunity, for he is working under his old boss, Bobby Quinn.

The Nut Cracker

TAMPA, Fla. — One Punch O'Gootty was insistent that he must spend his time here with Nick Altrock, noted comic of the Washington team. "There's a funny bird for you," declares Mr. O'Gootty. "He can give me more laughs than both the Philadelphia teams put together."

Mr. Altrock greeted his old Bourbon companion in his characteristically humorous manner.

"Well, how's tricks?" asked Nick, without even cracking a smile.

Mr. O'Gootty, who is no part of a slow-wit himself, shot back promptly, "You'd be surprised."

Well, when the laughter finally subsided, the two got down to cases—speaking in a strictly non-alcoholic vein—and began to settle the affairs of the world.

Mr. O'Gootty reminded the waiter that he would have White Rock in his this time.

"What do you think of our new manager?" inquired Altrock.

"What new manager?"

"Harris."

The strains of an adjacent cabaret orchestra floated in on the warm spring night. A saxophone moaned, "Mama Loves Papa."

"Well, why don't you stick to water then?" demanded the sensible Mr. Altrock.

"Where do you think you'll finish?" resumed Mr. O'Gootty.

Mr. Altrock's lips lightened. A vast silence enveloped him and he made it unmistakably plain that this was no place to discuss religious beliefs.

"I hear Walter Johnson is going to quit. Who'll Griff get to take his place?"

"Alexander, Uhle, Luque, Ehmke, Pennock and Rommel," answered the conservative Mr. Altrock.

MILKMAN HAS HARD TIME GETTING INTO APPLETON

It was a discouraging trip for Henry VanCamp, Grand Chute farmer, who endeavored to fight his way through the snowstorm to Appleton Saturday in order that one of the local hotels would have its regular supply of milk.

The start of the trip was made by automobile truck, but when this vehicle became stalled in the snow about a half mile from his home, he went back for his team to pull the automobile out. One of the horses fell into the snow and injured itself that it became necessary to haul the animal by sledge to an Appleton veterinarian, who is endeavoring to save its life.

Milwaukee Woman Healed By Suggestive Therapeutics (Weltmer Method)

23rd and Grand-Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., March 14, 1924

To those suffering or afflicted:—

I, Kathryn Mitten had been a cripple for 14 years being unable to bend my right ankle and dragged my right foot when I walked. I also had an attack of bronchitis at the time I started with Williams Home Method of Treatment.

My first treatment was at night and after the treatment I slept soundly all night. The next morning I was up early feeling fine and in a few days my cough was gone and every day my ankle improved until I can now walk as good as anyone. I have gained several pounds in weight and feel better than I have felt in years. In fact I don't remember of ever feeling any better at any time during my life.

Your truly,

Kathryn Mitten.

This is just one of the many testimonials and letter of appreciation that we are receiving from grateful patients after a course of one HOME TREATMENT. (Weltmer Method).

17 DERAILMENTS OF STREET CARS IN SPRING STORM

Traction Service Hampered by Ice Covered Rails—Wires Still Down

Street car service in Appleton was crippled for the first time this year on Saturday by the blizzard which caused terrific damage in parts of the state. Seventeen derailments of street cars and work cars were reported by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., on the Neenah interurban line and on the Appleton city line. Service to Neenah was interrupted from about 10:30 Saturday morning until nearly 5 o'clock in the afternoon because three cars left the track at Third and Appleton-sts., Menasha. Car service to Kaukauna was not affected and cars were run into Menasha, except late in the afternoon when a work car jumped the track near St. Elizabeth hospital, on Lake-st., almost blocking traffic. Earlier in the day the work car left the rails on College-ave, near Superior-st.

MANY POLES DOWN

Telephone service with Milwaukee and places south of Fond du Lac still is impossible. Reports to the district office of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. state that about 100 poles are down in the district, most of them between Plymouth and Milwaukee. A large number of wire breaks also are reported. Every available crew has been sent to the storm area and telephone officials are hopeful that service with Milwaukee will be restored in a day or two.

Telegraph service has been quite largely restored and communications are being received as usual.

Train service was not badly affected by the storm and trains were running nearly on time.

RAILS UNDER ICE

Difficulties of the traction company were caused by automobiles and trucks running on the car tracks, packing the ice and snow on the rails so the cars could not obtain traction and they ran off. In places the cars were forced to travel back and forth over the rail in order to break down the ice so that the wheels could rest on the steel.

No damage was caused by the derailments but the company was seriously inconvenienced. The most serious trouble was at Third and Appleton-sts., Menasha, where a car went off about 10:30 Saturday morning. Two cars were sent to Menasha to assist in placing the one back on the rails and both of the rescue cars were derailed. Three cars were off the track within 50 feet of each other.

No street cars were run on the Green Bay-Kaukauna line on Sunday but service was restored Monday morning. The first car on the Oshkosh-Neenah line since Saturday reached Neenah about 4:30 Sunday afternoon.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

Heavy snowfalls were reported in parts of the state. At Merrill it was said that eleven inches had fallen and in parts of the north the drifts are as high as during the winter.

Rural mail carriers found the roads in almost the worst condition of the entire season following their unsuccessful attempt to complete their routes during the snow storm Saturday.

Travel was made extremely difficult by the diverse conditions of the roads. The roads afford poor sleighing and are just as unfit for wheel vehicles. Some of the carriers find the use of sleighs more practical than wagons, and others are unable to use sleds at all.

Mail carriers will occasionally have a half mile stretch of road that is entirely bare, when suddenly they will meet a huge snow drift and a long stretch of snow covered road. Most all of the excellent road work done by farmers and pathmasters seems to have been in vain. Travelers are constantly forced to break through fences and drive over fields.

A snow storm of the severity that was felt here Saturday is quite unusual for this time of the year, but rural carriers remember equally severe snow storms that came as late as April 15 and April 23.

DOUBT LEGALITY OF VOTING FOR SEVEN DELEGATES

Attorney Do Not Agree on Whether Seven Delegates Can Be Elected

Danger of voters' nullifying their ballots for presidential delegates is seen by a local attorney in a situation which has arisen in Tuesday's election.

The greatest danger is in mixing the votes which probably will be common Tuesday as a result of the misleading instructions on the ballot to vote for seven state delegates-at-large.

While Democrats and Prohibitionists are instructed to vote for four delegates-at-large besides two district delegates, the Republican ticket ballot folder instructs voters to vote for seven delegates-at-large.

LaFollette Progressive Republicans, in accordance with a provision of the Republican party to increase the number of Wisconsin delegates from four to seven, have nominated seven candidates. The Coolidge supporters in the Republican party, however, maintaining that the nomination and election of seven delegates are illegal, nominated only four delegates-at-large.

Although the state attorney general has handed down an opinion that election of seven delegates is legal, other attorneys challenge the opinion, and political advertisements have hinted that a movement may be made to have all such ballots on which seven are voted for declared null and void.

Ziesemer will have charge. Interment will be made at Riverside cemetery.

GAME COCK ASSAILS OWNER; HE MAY LOSE SIGHT OF ONE EYE

Max Eggert, 430 Winnebago-st., probably will lose the sight of his left eye as the result of being struck by a game cock when he was feeding the chickens at his home at 5:30 Friday evening. The cock was in the same coop with the chickens. As Mr. Eggert bent down to catch him, he was struck the spur hitting the pupil of his eye.

It is possible that the man will lose his eye sight and probably his eye. The doctors will be unable to determine the extent of the injury for a few days. Mr. Eggert is employed by the Appleton Coated Paper company.
